D-DAY—A dozen or so Villagers had the same idea this week. They all thought they had a better definition of "D-Day" than that given out by the army. The army said the "D" in D-Day just meant the Day of invasion—Day-Day, in other words. "That does not make sense to me," said one Villager. "Why didn't they make it 'I-Day' if it means Invasion Day?" Two Villagers suggested that D-Day meant Dark Day for the Nazis, six said it meant Doooms-Day for the Axis and the rest all thought they had something when they said Hitler called it that Damn Day. . . . Style conscious Wacs will rejoice to learn they are going to have a good looking new one-piece shirt-maker type summer uniform of military hue. There's a catch, however. The new uniform won't be GI—it will cost those who want it $10 each.

FASHIONS—Heard a girl say this week that she thought she would enlist and when asked in what branch, replied "Waves. I think they have better looking uniforms—and hats." Maybe that is why the army is designing a new hat for the Wacs. . . . Al Adolph, local boy now in the army and attending technical classes at Dickinson, North Dakota, turned on his radio one night recently—and was homesick. For it was the Eddie Cantor broadcast from the Plaza theater and the mention of the Chi Chi and Little Tuscany by Cantor was a real thrill.

THE VILLAGE—Paul Lukas called up Alice Parry at the Do-Nut shop this week with an SOS for a birthday cake. Could she bake one? She told him that if he could use doughnuts instead of cake, she'd be glad to make his birthday party a success. . . . Daily sight earlier in the week along Tamarisk road—Charley Chaplin and wife Oona O'Neil strolling in the sunshine. . . . Got a postcard, unsigned, this week, from a local resident who wants to know why all the fuss about polygamy in Utah. "Only difference between that cult and many other people is that they have all of their wives at once while the others practice a sort of progressive polygamy with the help of the divorce courts."

COMPLAINT—Says a flyer back from action in the South Pacific—"I wish war department communications would omit the word 'only' when they report a raid and say 'only one plane failed to return.' That one plane lost means a terrific blow to several families—and to the rest of us who do get back." . . . Although the gasoline situation on the coast is said to be acute, there are just as many cars on the road as before and the state collected $200,000 more in gasoline taxes this March than last year. At 3 cents a gallon that is a lot of gasoline.

WOMEN—A Maryland sheriff went to war and turned his job over to his wife. In two days she cleared up a series of mysterious burglaries her husband had been working on for six weeks. Now the hubby, a private in the army, is worrying about the next election. He thinks the voters may put his wife in the office. . . . In a New York village, mothers of boys overseas share the letters they get from their sons with each other. In that way, they gain a lot of additional information about their boys. . . . Herb Samson read a cartoon showing Gen. MacArthur reading his favorite newspaper "Guinea Gold", published by soldiers in the South Pacific. In a few minutes he was doing the same. He found one in the mail, which had just arrived, from a friend in that war area.

WASTE—What are you doing with your waste paper? Burning it? It takes 45 tons of paper to build an aircraft carrier. Bundle your magazines and old papers and take them to the fenced-in enclosure, especially for old papers, at the Rancho Trailer park, 1563 South Palm Canyon drive. . . . When George Dennis wrote a glowing description of his famous fried chicken dinners at the Sandwich shop, Bob Fern pasted the advertisement of a well known roll-your-own tobacco over it and sent it to Dennis. Having tasted the dinner can say it may be a lot of bull but it sure tastes like chicken and good. . . .

WISE CRACK—Overheard in a local shop where the boss and all of his helpers were scrambling around trying to fill the sudden rush of orders for coolers: "This sudden change in the weather sure caught a lot of Villagers with their coolers down."

PLEASANT TASK—The former Martha Hadley Bell shows her enjoyment, and her husband, Calvin E. Peeler smiles approval, as she pins the eagles of a colonel on the former Palm Springs resident at Hendricks Field, Sebring, Fla., where he is director of training at that AFFTC Flying Fortress pilot school. The promotion to colonel, effective April 26, was announced May 1.

Former Village Resident Now Full Colonel

Calvin E. Peeler, 33, formerly employed by Floyd Bigley, is now a colonel in the Air Forces. The former Palm Springs resident received his eagles May 1 at Hendricks Field, Sebring, Fla., where he is director of training at that Flying Fortress pilot school. The promotion was effective April 26.

Mrs. Peeler, the former Miss Martha Hadley Bell, of Palm Springs, proudly pinned the eagles on "Cal's" uniform. Their two children, Phyllis and Ginger, were at home in Sebring, unaware of the ceremony in their daddy's office.

Col. Peeler was at Visalia until his assignment to Hendricks Field in March, 1942, as a flying instructor. He was a first lieutenant then, but he has advanced rapidly in the ranks. He received his lieutenant-colonelcy there in January, 1943, about the time he was named director of training.

Hendricks Field holds one of the finest flying safety records in the Army Air Forces. It is one of the most strategic commands in the United States and was the first four-engine bomber school established in the United States.

Pots and Pans Are Chief Casualties in NCO Club Blaze

Hot grease on the stove at the Non-Commissioned Officers club, on South Palm Canyon drive at about midnight Thursday called out the fire department.

There was plenty of smoke when the firemen arrived but they soon quelled the blaze.

Damage was confined to pots and pans on the range at the time.

This Is NO Fable But It Has A Good Moral, You'll Agree

D. C. Pickell had a small furnished house he wanted to sell. So he told the people of Palm Springs about it in a four-line classified advertisement in The Desert Sun.

It wasn't long after The Desert Sun appeared on the newsstands and in the mails Friday afternoon that he got action.

Monday he was in—"Stop my ad. I could have sold 25 or 30 houses if I had 'em. And they're still coming around."

This is no fable but it has a moral: For quick classified results, dial 3594.

3 In Race At School Election

There will be two elections in Palm Springs next week—but for one of them, the second, there has been no campaigning and little comment.

On Friday, May 19, a week from today, one trustee will be elected for the Desert School district board and two for the Palm Springs high school board.

Term of Frances Crocker on the Desert district board expires and he is a candidate to succeed himself. Terms of Mayor E. E. Theriault and Charles Burkett of the high school board expire. Both are candidates to succeed themselves.

Polling place for both elections is at Frances S. Stevens school and the polls will be open from 1 to 6 p. m.

Name Speakers At High School

Helen Louise Williams was officially notified this week that she is valedictorian for the Class of '44. Her grade point average for all of her high school work is 2.1, the highest of her class. John Ward, second in scholarship in the graduating class for this year, received notice that he is to serve as salutatorian for his class. His grade point average is 2.0.

The two high-point seniors will give the valedictory and salutatory addresses at the Commencement program to be held at the high school on the evening of May 26. Their speeches will supplement a program in which Mr. Geoffrey Morgan will be principal speaker. The Class of '44 has thirty-three members. Twenty-five of these will be graduated May 26. Seven received certificates of completion at mid-year. Seniors who expect to receive their diplomas May 26, are:

Jean Mae Beck
Lori Lee Bering
Gloria M. Bruce

Seven Polling Places Fixed For Primary

Palm Springs voters will go to the polls next Tuesday in seven precincts to name their choice for national and state officials to head their respective tickets at the November general election.

In Palm Springs, center of interest was in the state assembly contest where Philip L. Boyd, Villager, former mayor and active in civic affairs for many years, is a candidate on both republican and democratic ballots.

SAME ON BOTH

With the exception of the U. S. senatorial primary and the congressional primary, the same names appear on both the democratic and republican ballots.

All national convention nominees on the Democratic ticket are pledged to Franklin D. Roosevelt and on the Republican ticket to Governor Earl Warren, prominently mentioned as a running mate for Dewey if he wins the Republican nomination for president.

IN U. S. CONTESTS

Lieutenant Governor Frederick Houser, Charles Johnson, state treasurer, Senator Sheridan Downey, Justus Craemer, Roland Casad, William Bonelli. (Please Turn to Page 7)

Dalmation Sets New Record With 14 Pups All Born Same Day

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Walker of 780 Via Monte Vista, had two Dalmation dogs and so they gave one to John Rhyne, son of Mrs. Marie Rhyne of 1873 North Palm Canyon drive.

Today, Johnny has 14 Dalmations.

When Mr. Walker presented the dog to Johnny he said that there probably would be "one or two, maybe three" pups pretty soon.

But a week ago, the Dalmation gave birth to 14 offspring—and it was "be kind to animals week," too. One of the little pups failed to make the grade but the other 13 are thriving. Accommodations for Mrs. Dalmation's family are rather crowded but they are all getting by.

Dr. O. B. McRory, veterinarian, said that it was "remarkable" and that six or seven pups was usually the limit.

City's Stand On Licenses Recognized

Colgate And Sorum Testify At Sacramento

The six-month battle of Palm Springs to prevent the issuance of new liquor licenses here or the transfer of licenses from other communities in the county to the Village, was finally crowned with victory this week. It took a trip to Sacramento and the personal appearance before the state board of equalization by two city officials to do it.

Word was received here late yesterday from City Attorney Roy W. Colgate in Sacramento, that the state board had denied the application of the United Service Stores, Inc., for an off-sale license here at 380 North Palm Canyon drive.

MADE TEST CASE

The firm's application for a license was a sort of test case in which the city's stand on new licenses was fought out to a finish. Last November a resolution was adopted by council, addressed to the state board of equalization, asking that no more licenses be permitted here until the ratio of liquor establishments here was one to each 1,000 population.

When the United Service Stores application was filed last February, the city protested, citing this resolution. A three-hour hearing was held here March 10, after which the city was informed that its protest had been denied. City Manager Ray Sorum wired another protest and the board reversed itself, sustaining the protest but advising Barney Ostrow and Arthur Wolpe, owners of the firm, that they had ten days in which to apply for a re-hearing, which they did. The city was notified last week that the new hearing would be held on May 11 at Sacramento at 10 a. m.

REITERATE STAND

At a preliminary caucus a week ago yesterday the new council endorsed the stand of the former board on the November resolution and at Tuesday's council

COUNCILMAN—Walter Z. Allen, real estate and stock broker, appointed to city council to succeed Frank V. Shannon, as representative of the sixth district.

Walter Allen Appointed to City Council

Walter Z. Allen, well known Village realtor and stock broker's agent, Wednesday morning became city councilman from the sixth district when he took the oath of office, administered by Judge Guy Pinney at the latter's office.

Mr. Allen was appointed by city council Tuesday evening when a check revealed the authenticity of sufficient signatures on his petition which was filed with council on May 3.

He succeeds Frank V. Shannon, member of the city council for six years and mayor for two, who resigned last Wednesday. Mr. Allen is the second representative from district six, Mr. Shannon having served ever since Palm Springs was incorporated, until last week.

Mr. Allen has been engaged in business here for the past nine years. He has one son in the service, Walter Z. Allen, Jr., now with the U. S. Navy, somewhere in the South Pacific.

Departing Winter Residents Urged To Inform Police

Chief of Police Lyle J. Sanard called attention of winter residents, planning to leave the Village for the summer months, to a special service offered by the department—that of making periodical inspection of closed premises to see that all is well.

To aid the police in getting in touch with property owners, in the event something is wrong, a card index is maintained at the department where the summer address, summer telephone number and other necessary data to enable police to contact owners, are listed on cards.

Chief Sanard requested all property owners planning to leave for the summer, to be sure to come in and fill out one of these cards—for the convenience of the police and for their own protection.

There'll Be 2 Dry Days Here Next Week

Chief of Police Lyle J. Sanard pointed out today that there will be two "dry" days here next week. Under state laws no liquor may be sold on election days while polls are open.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. next Tuesday, primary election day, and from 1 to 6 p. m. next Friday, school election day.

Dog Tax Act Revived to End Threat

Health Officer Calls Attention to Nearby Epidemic

Get a license tag for your dog—or you may lose him.

City council decided Tuesday evening, after hearing Dr. O. B. McRory, city health officer, to revive Ordinance No. 129, which went into effect Dec. 31, 1942, but which was never fully enforced due to the cost of implementing it.

The ordinance sets up a series of fees for picking up stray animals, establishes a pound, provides for a humane officer and makes dog licenses imperative.

EPIDEMIC CITED

Dr. McRory called attention of councilmen to the present epidemic of rabies in Los Angeles and reaching as far east as Beaumont and Banning, only 25 miles away. He said there was no sign of the epidemic here but that with the growing number of stray dogs, the danger was present.

Upon questioning of Councilman C. P. Adams, who brought the matter before council, Dr. McRory said the greatest difficulty encountered was distinguishing between abandoned stray dogs and family pets.

CONTRARY TO LAW

Both are running loose and if the family dogs were tagged as they should be, they would be safe. When picked up, their owners could be reached," he said.

City Attorney Roy Colegate called attention to the fact that it is contrary to the present ordinance for dogs to run loose.

PROTECTIVE MEASURE

It was pointed out that the fees collected from dog licenses were insufficient to pay for the cost of rounding them up and destroying them.

Judge Guy Pinney, however, reminded council that the police department and the fire department did not show a profit but the city paid the bills in those departments because of the protection involved. He said that enforcement of the dog ordinance would come under the heading of protection as much as the fire and police departments.

ACTION IS TAKEN

Following further remarks by Dr. McRory who said something must be done as a precautionary and protective measure, council instructed City Manager Ray Sorum to survey the situation, study cost of enforcement and look into the matter of an enforcement officer. He was empowered to act.

Villagers were advised to obtain license tags for their dogs at once to avoid having them picked up as strays and, if unclaimed within five days, destroyed.

One-A-Day Record For New Members Is Set By C. of C.

Maintaining an average of one new member per day, six more were added to the rolls of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce in the past week. In the past 36 days, 40 new memberships have been issued by Walter Kofeldt, executive secretary.

Total membership now is 206, an all-time high for the organization.

Building Picks Up In Village With 7 Buildings Started

Building picked up briskly in the Village this week with the issuance of seven permits by the department of public works, giving the year's record a $6,715 boost.

In May, so far, nine permits, valued at $6,865 have been issued. In 1944, to date, 92 building permits, involving construction costing $34,579.50, have been issued.

Largest permit of the week was issued Tuesday to the Palm Springs Water company, John Holditch, manager, for re-roofing and re-framing its storage tank at the north end of the city at a cost of $5,000. Ted Martel is the contractor.

Other permits issued Tuesday were to:

Eleanor Linn, 458 West Arenas road, repairs and remodeling, $300.

Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, 505 Calle Santa Rosa, addition of bedroom and bath room, $800.

Mrs. Charles P. Adams, 212 East Amado road, car shelter, $40.

Noble Smith, 3-room residence at rear of Church of God, $300.

Roy Hawthorne, 1695 South Palm Canyon drive, addition, $75.

A permit was issued on May 4 to Charles E. Crunclenton, 180 Prescott drive, for an addition, $200.

Property Owners League Prepares For Coming Year

Frank Cutler was elected chairman of the Home Owners' League at a recent meeting and an executive committee was named to conduct affairs of the league for the coming year.

On the executive committee are Mr. Cutler, Francis F. Crocker, John Hormel, Mrs. N. F. Jones, Kenneth Kirk, William A. Lippman and Lloyd Simon.

The organization plans to enlist the support of all home owners here of a survey to be made through the summer months of several items of vital interest to home owners by the committee. Report of findings will be made at an early fall meeting and the necessary action instituted.

Cathedral City

W. R. HILLERY

This is just a little personal word to certain guys in the service and they are Warren Axthelm, Leonard Bryant, Walter Colglazier, Stanley and Richard Craig, Francis Filtz, Dick Heise, Jack Hillery, Van Linkletter and Joe Todd, then I shouldn't leave out Buster Crunclenton and Blake Beville.

I'm thinking of you fellows who lived here and once made many trips from Cathedral City to Palm Springs and I thought I would report what I saw on the way yesterday.

The old desert looks good right now even though the brown parchment is creeping in. After passing through the arch and down in that first swail there is an intense blue little flower that makes a sort of gossamer carpet, then as you pass the Cree ranch and that white Cove building in the nitch on your left there is a very green field, not large, and I think its oats.

Then for two miles you travel the grand canal where each flood that comes down the highway leaves its deposit of soil which the highway men push out on each side like a large irrigation project. But along this stretch are many species of desert growth that you will remember and a few that are almost new to that area, good old cresote bush, indigo, smoke tree, willow, cane, castor bean and then the verberna, incense bush, primroses, jimson weed and tumble weed and after the turn at the black tent the natural growth of palo verde that are now in blossom. And all along the way the foxtail grass is turning brown.

To the above list of you fellows I should add the name of Roald Jacobsen for he has reached the age of eighteen and has joined the navy.

Local excitement here this week was caused when H. A. Snyders pick-up tangled with an ambulance. Look for more details elsewhere.

E. J. Wheeler left last week for Yosemite to assist his old employers this summer. Mrs. Wheeler and her sister, Oline Sanness will remain in Cathedral City at least for the time being.

Cabot Yerxa, the original Two Bunch Palms man, artist and naturalist and good friend, sent me an interesting map of the Two Bunch Palms area and I want him to know that it will help the assessor to find his way about in that great area. It reminds me that Monday I worked at Desert Hot Springs and found it was "wash day," for most of the people over there were away shopping or visiting. That is a place that will come into its own when the war ends. Its got something.

Lt. Ray Renville, who with Mrs. Renville and three daughters, has lived in our village for almost two years, are now living in Palm Springs where Lt. Renville is detailed to postoffice work. They will be greatly missed in Cathedral City.

James W. Kyle and crew of volunteers were again at work this week beautifying the triangle on the highway where Encelia Lane enters the highway from the south. Planting flowers and making a curb to protect the plantings.

I'm still thinking of you fellows in the service and I want you to know that some people are still working without pay to make this community a nicer place to come back to.

Most of you remember Philip Boyd who operates the Red Roof ranch down the road about two miles. Phil is a candidate for the State Assembly. A mighty good man.

And here is a jarring note. At least you bounce a lot as you drive between Palm Springs and Cathedral City. The highway crew is tearing the oil-mix paving up and it will be made smoother with the same material that was in the road. Floods and heavy traffic has raised old ned with the road in recent years.

The wounded tiger is dangerous, but there lies before us now, clearly attainable, the glittering prize of air supremacy—the talisman that can paralyze German war industry and war transport.—Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair.

Ryan Co. Appeal For Feeder Lines Making Progress

Feeder airline service for West Coast cities including Palm Springs is receiving prominent attention in aviation and government circles in the nation's capital, according to Colin A. Stillwagen, controller of the Ryan School of Aeronautics. Stillwagen has just returned to San Diego headquarters from an extended eastern business trip in connection with Ryan's application for six feeder airline routes in California.

Palm Springs has been designated by the Ryan School in their application, now before the Civil Aeronautics Board, as one of the cities to be served by feeder and pick-up service on the Los Angeles-Yuma route.

WEST COAST FIRST

"Although there are hundreds of applications now before the C. A. B., for feeder airlines, serving all parts of the country, the West Coast route applications are the first to be heard in formal hearings," said Stillwagen.

"Obviously there is recognition in official Washington circles of the fact that present airmail facilities to and from many of the important cities surrounding the main trade centers of Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego are wholly inadequate and consequently this territory is receiving first consideration for expanded air facilities."

While in Washington, Stillwagen consulted with attorneys for the Ryan School of Aeronautics in preparing material for the pre-trial hearing of the West Coast feeder airline cases which was held on Thursday of last week. Following this preliminary meeting, the Civil Aeronautics Board will set a date for the trial hearing, which will probably be held early in July.

In connection with the preparation of its exhibits for the July trial hearing, the Ryan School recently assigned Roger Brubaker, an executive assistant, to make an economic survey study of this trade area. During his visit here, Brubaker has been working with the Chamber of Commerce, civic officials and leading business men in obtaining industrial and economic information which must be presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board to substantiate the need for better airmail facilities.

I'm voting for Phil Boyd for Assembly. He has the three precious qualities of Sincerity, Honesty and Capability. These qualities are generally claimed by politicians and are almost never true. Party cuts little ice with me. I'm for the man, Phil Boyd.

Field Club Plans to Be Discussed At May 24 Meeting

Reports on progress of plans looking toward the ultimate acquisition of the Field Club property by the city for recreational purposes will be presented at a meeting of city council scheduled for May 24, it was decided at this week's council meeting.

At the May 3 council meeting, Mayor E. E. Theriault and City Manager Sorum were authorized to start negotiations with shareholders in the Field Club looking toward donations of stock to the city or sale at low price. Some of the largest shareholders had already relinquished their stock to the city via the Chamber of Commerce, one 10,000 block being turned in for $1.

6th Graders Pen Love for Mothers At Village School

In the art class conducted by Miss Era Franklin at Frances S. Stevens school, pupils of the sixth grade designed cards, expressing in design, color and sentiment, the meaning of Mothers' Day.

Some expressed their thoughts in prose, others in verse. Two of the poems selected by Miss Franklin as of exceptional merit are:

Dear Mother, so sweet and gentle and kind,

Another like you would be hard to find.

Mothers' Day is a day for you, And I send my love so sincere and true.

—Victoria Shirley Matloff.

Mothers whose sons have gone to war, Mothers whose sons shall be seen no more.

Wacs Stationed At Torney Hospital to Celebrate Second Anniversary of Founding At Dinner On Sunday

A dinner celebration to commemorate the second anniversary of the establishment of a woman's army in the United States will be held at Torney General Hospital midday Sunday, when 2nd Lt. Helen C. Bowen and 2nd Lt. Lydia J. Bigler will entertain enlisted members of the Women's Army Corps now stationed at the hospital. WAC Week will be celebrated nationally from May 11 to 17.

Lt. Bowen who is chief of Civilian Personnel is also commander of the WAC detachment at the hospital. Lt. Bigler holds a masters degree in home economics from Columbia University and is assistant director of dietetics.

CELEBRATE SUNDAY

Although President Roosevelt signed the Rogers Bill which created the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps on May 15, 1942, the Torney detachment will celebrate on Sunday—Mothers' Day—so that there will be no interference with the working schedule of the group.

The enlisted detachment arrived at Torney General Hospital early in April from Stanford University where they had completed six months intensive training in physical therapy. Upon satisfactory completion of three months work in the physical therapy department at the hospital they will be commissioned as physical therapy aides. Members of the groups are Corporals Frances Cray, Edna Livaudais, Jean Forrest, Katherine Coyner and Tec-5 Edith Salyer.

CREDIT TO POST

In authorizing official recognition of the WAC at Torney, Col. A. B. Jones, commanding officer said "Our association with the Women's Army Corps has been pleasant indeed. The WAC officers and enlisted women stationed here have been of material assistance and a credit to the post. We are very happy to have them here."

On July 1, 1943, the Woman's Army Corps was established by the 78th Congress, giving members the same benefits which apply to personnel of the Army, and placing them under all laws and regulations which apply to the Army.

Members of the Corps are now performing 239 separate functions at 300 Army posts, and have served overseas with distinction. Four enlisted women are now serving in the staff assigned to General Dwight Eisenhower.

They Met In 1904 In St. Louis, In 1944, In Village

Forty years ago in St. Louis, Major Gus Simon, Boer war veteran, and Walter Kofeldt, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, met while both were connected in official capacity with the Boer War show at the exposition there in 1904.

This week they met again in Palm Springs.

Major Simon is now associated with the Hotel Greeter's Guide of Los Angeles and was in the Village on a visit.

Incidentally, the April issue of the Guide featured Palm Springs on its cover.

Boyd Returns to Riverside After Desert Campaign

Philp L. Boyd arrived in Riverside the early part of this week after campaigning strenuously in the Coachella and Palo Verde valleys. "I believe my visit in the Eastern parts of the County was most satisfactory," said Boyd, "and I expect to devote the rest of the time before election day to campaigning in the City of Riverside itself."

Philip L. Boyd is running for State Assemblyman and because of his excellent record of economy and efficiency in the administration of the affairs of the City of Palm Springs, numbers of people throughout the County have voluntarily organized committees and are working hard to elect him.

Boyd has a background of success in business and agriculture. He is a family man with four children and has been a resident of Riverside County for more than 20 years.

Last Sunday night Mr. Boyd talked over radio KPRO in Riverside to county voters and will speak again this Sunday evening and on Monday evening.

Desert Inn Host to Many Visitors In Closing Week

The season is nearing the end at the Desert Inn and the dining rooms, scene of many formal and informal gatherings of Villagers and winter visitors, will close next Monday.

A few rooms will be kept open on the American plan until June 1, the management announced and on that day the famous hostelry will close for the summer months.

Present plans contemplate the re-opening for the 36th season on October 1, almost two weeks earlier than the opening date last year.

Mrs. Margaret Ross Is Now In Charge At Legion Dugout

It was announced by the Palm Springs post of the American Legion, now officially known as the Owen Coffman Post, that Mrs. Margaret Ross had been appointed in charge of the American Legion Dugout in the Plaza, succeeding Mrs. Paul Shuttleworth who recently resigned.

The Dugout committee reported that the number of soldiers visiting the Dugout averaged 800 per month. Departing from previous practice, the post will continue regular meetings throughout the summer months and permanent quarters for club purposes are being sought.

Election of officers for the coming year will feature the meeting next Tuesday night. The nominating committee will bring in its report at that time.

The local post is now at its highest point since the first year of organization, 42 members now being on its rolls.

Mayor Announces Appointments to City Committees

Names of standing committees to serve city council for the next two years were announced Tuesday afternoon by Mayor Eugene E. Theriault at a special meeting of city council.

The appointments follow:

Lot Buyers Notice

All lots recently offered in this space are now sold; others are available.

NOW, our prime interest, until Primary Election day, May 16th, is to remind people to vote, as we know the larger the vote we poll here the larger will be the vote for our fellow townsman, PHIL L. BOYD, FOR ASSEMBLYMAN. It is encouraging to note the active interest in Phil's campaign by people in all walks of life. They know him to be tolerant, sincere, possessing a wholesome and active interest in human needs, comprehensive knowledge of governmental affairs and unusual capacity for effective work. We know no other candidate can represent the County so capably—certain it is none will do so much for this community.

Well Known High School Athlete Is Now In U. S. Navy

Jerome Alden Tracy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Tracy, 1780 North Palm Canyon drive, a senior at Palm Springs high school, is a member of the U. S. Navy today. With 19 other Riverside county youths in the 17-year-old bracket, he joined up during the past month, at the Riverside recruiting station, T. V. Adams, naval recruiter in charge, said.

Young Tracy was placed on the inactive list to enable to complete his high school education here.

He will go into active training in the navy on May 29, three days after graduation.

Tracy played a prominent part in high school athletics here and took many first places in this spring's track and field meets.

TORNEY GENERAL HOSPITAL EVENTS

News of the Enlisted Men of the Medical and Quartermaster Detachments at Torney Army General Hospital, Palm Springs
By Pfc. Robert D. Price

NON-COM'S CLUB IS OPEN "ON THE FLY"

"Service on the Fly," or how to continue activities while on the move, is the new motto of the Torney Non-Com's Club.

During the process of turning the club building around, to make room for new construction, the doors of this popular haven, for non-commissioned officers of this post, remain open.

President Ernie Piantinida promises to keep all facilities going and advises members to bring along parachute equipment as there is likely to be a "sudden descent" at any minute.

STAR TALKS HERE

Casually strolling down the aisle as if he were one of the patrons and had come to see the picture himself, Paul Lukas, America's top-ranking male star paid the patients a visit last Wednesday in conjunction with the showing of his latest picture, "Uncertain Glory."

After a quick introduction, Mr. Lukas chatted informally for a few minutes, kidded with the fellows and then took off to visit some of the men in wards. He also volunteered, unsolicited, to come back soon. Mr. Lukas, thanks, and we'll be waiting!

VISITS TORNEY PATIENTS

Acting the part of information center, legal advisor, and town crier, and at the same time providing a broad shoulder on which the cares of bed patients of Torney General Hospital may be carried, is one man's idea of how he can best help to do his bit in winning the war.

Lt. Thomas D. Maher, a patient of Ward A-1, has taken upon himself the assignment mentioned above. Accompanied by Tec-4 Joe Davis, of the educational reconditioning program, Lt. Maher is making the rounds of the wards twice weekly, and starting "bull-sessions" that get the fellows talking, griping, blowing off steam, and asking questions.

A graduate of Notre Dame, Lt. Maher in civilian life, a member of the legal profession, is using his knowledge of the field to assist GIs with problems of that nature. A typical session includes open discussions on subjects ranging from football to "when is the invasion coming?"

Morale Services Branch, in search of a man that would be able to go to patients, unable to get out of bed, and keep them abreast of the news, found Lt. Maher and he kindly offered his services. The original idea is still being carried out, but, under the guidance of Lt. Maher, it is expanding in scope until he has become the "Mr. Anthony" of the wards.

PERSONAL AFFAIRS BRANCH

A Personal Affairs Branch has been set up at Torney General Hospital. This is a new departure with the Army. "Oh, yes," says someone, "there is nothing new about that. The Army has done nothing else but mess up my personal affairs."

But this time you have the Army wrong. The Personal Affairs Branch's sole mission is to help soldiers, veterans, and their dependents solve their personal problems.

The Personal Affairs Branch isn't going to do anything on their own, but it will direct those with problems to the office or agent that can, and will, do something. Believe it or not, the Army has an officer, or there is some agency, prepared to help out service men in almost every conceivable trouble.

The Personal Affairs Officer will know, or will find out, where the problem can be considered with the best promise of advice and solution. His one mission is to be available to soldiers, veterans, and their dependents. You can write, phone, or see him.

There is a Personal Affairs Officer on every post. At Torney the Personal Affairs Branch is located in Cottage 5. The officer in charge is the post Chaplain, Lt. Col. George Pearson.

VISITED BY OFFICERS

Torney General Hospital was honored the past week by the presence of the Principal Chief Nurse for the Ninth Service Command.

Accompanied to Torney by Capt. Elizabeth Fitch, of Birmingham General Hospital, Van Nuys, Calif., Lt. Col. Alma T. Skoog arrived at this installation Wednesday, May 3rd, spending the evening as guests of Torney's Principal Chief Nurse, Captain Edna Traeger, the two officers continued their tour of duty the following day.

While here at Torney, Lt. Col. Skoog inspected the facilities and work of the ANC of this installation.

OFFICERS SPEAK IN L. A.

This past week on Thursday, May 4, two officers of Torney General Hospital, representing different phases of the Reconditioning Program as conducted here, spoke before an audience assembled in the auditorium of Robinson's Store, Los Angeles.

Major Donald B. Slocum, Medical Director of the program, spoke at length on the general aspects of the program as activated at this installation. Captain Charles S. Gage, educational reconditioning officer, described the program of orientation and education, and its place in the program that is restoring thousands of men to active duty in the Armed Forces.

At the close of the program, the audience, made up of mothers, wives, and relatives of service men, and thus vitally interested in the progress of this type of program, asked many pertinent questions on the subject of the

High School Grad Gains Prominence In Band, Football

Al Adolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Adolph, 1563 South Palm Canyon Drive, who joined the navy three months ago and was sent to Dickinson college in Dickinson, North Dakota, achieved a distinction last week. He got his name in the school's page three times—twice on page one.

Adolph, who is in the navy air corps, became a part of the band at Dickinson almost as soon as he arrived there in March and one of the press notices relates to a two-minute drum break which had his audience wild. He also received favorable mention in two items concerning spring football practice at the school.

Pfc. Stephen Levi Gets Desert Data In South Pacific

Pfc. Stephen J. Levi of Palm Springs, writes his mother from the south Pacific:

"I received The Desert Sun yesterday and I hope I keep on getting it. I like to know what is going on at home, instead of reading war news all of the time. I wish you'd thank the publishers for me."

Of the Aleutians, he says: "A place where you don't want to be."

George E. Wrangle Now In Training At Alabama Field

George E. Wrangle, 20, son of Everett G. Wrangle, Palm Springs, is now enrolled as an aviation cadet in the pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Alabama, an installation of the army air forces command, to receive nine weeks of intensive military, physical and academic training. He received preliminary training in Connecticut.

Aviation Cadet Wrangle is a graduate of North Hollywood high school and has been in the army air forces 19 months. His father served in France in 1917 and 1918.

START NEW CLASSES

Morale Services Branch this week is laying plans for the opening of several additional classes for patients and duty personnel of Torney.

Classes in English, shorthand, Spanish, and music appreciation are now being formed and anyone interested in any of these subjects is advised to contact the Morale Services Branch. These new classes are in addition to the meetings already being held in the Orientation Center under the supervision of the branch.

Major Carl Prince Takes Over Duties As Post Adjutant

With the arrival on May 3 of Major Carl M. Prince, MAC to take over responsibilities of Post Adjutant, considerable distinction was added to the officer's roster at Torney General Hospital.

Major Prince will replace Captain Lloyd W. Matlock who is now enrolled at the Army Command School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He comes directly from Camp Grant, Ill., where he has been stationed for the last 7 years. During the last week has had an opportunity to renew friendships with Torney personnel who were formerly stationed at Camp Grant.

Mrs. Prince and their two-year old son, Steven Tom, accompanied Major Prince to Palm Springs.

FRANK TEBO

— CANDIDATE FOR —
Assemblyman

Statement to Voters Of Riverside County

I wish it to be known that I am in this contest for assemblyman only because of a widely recognized need for an aggressive Riverside county representative at Sacramento.

In state affairs Riverside county has too long been eating at the second table. Riverside county has been tossed a few crumbs while our neighboring counties have been living off the fat of the state treasury. We have had no one in the state legislature with the courage to demand that Riverside county be given a square deal. Our legislators have been mainly interested in state and national politics, with the result that the needs of Riverside county have been either neglected or entirely forgotten. This situation will be corrected if I am elected—that is one campaign promise that I do not hesitate to make.

It will be my purpose at Sacramento to work constantly for more and better state highways in Riverside county, for more state aid for our Riverside county schools, for better treatment of our retired aged citizens, for proper state assistance to our agriculture and for fair treatment and the elimination of red tape in state department contacts with the business and working people of our county.

My residence of 28 years in Indio and my interests as a business man there have made me thoroughly acquainted with all parts of Riverside county.

I am a director of the Indio Chamber of Commerce, president of the Desert-to-Ocean Highway association, exalted ruler of the Indio Elks lodge and a past noble grand of the Indio Odd Fellows lodge.

I think my principal qualification for the office of assemblyman is my determination to put Riverside county back on the maps that hang on the walls of legislative chambers and department offices in the state capitol building.

I am financing my own campaign.

Two Teams Retain Undefeated Mark In Air Base Loop

Two teams remained undefeated in the Army Air base softball loop as result of this week's play and one still faced a loss in the Palm Springs league.

In the air base loop Pitcher Priebe of the 21st Quartermasters grabbed the week's high spot when he pitched a no-hit game against the 73rd Officers. The final count was 15 to 1, the losers manufacturing one run on a pair of walks and some fancy base running.

Other games in the week saw the 459th Officers trim the 73rd Enlisted Men, 9 to 4; the 72nd Enlisted Men win from the 723rd Band, 6 to 4; the 459th Enlisted Men win over Headquarters, 8-4; the 73rd Officers win over the 72nd Officers, 12-5 and the Quartermasters down the 459th Officers, 4-2.

The results left the 459th Enlisted Men and the Quartermasters undefeated in play so far.

In the Palm Springs league, the 21st Enlisted Men maintained their clear record by winning over the 21st Officers, 3 to 1.

Earlier in the week the Torney General Hospital Enlisted Men trimmed the 21st Officers, 5 to 0. But the Torney EM's bowed to the Palm Springs Lions later by a 6 to 2 score.

Orhts Plan Fourth Annual Bike Trip Here Next Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Orht plan to make their fourth annual tandem bicycle trip from Beverly Hills to Palm Springs next Monday, pedalling in via Riverside and the Mission Inn, to the Desert Inn here. They plan to leave at 6 a. m. on the trip.

Their annual jaunt of almost 120 miles has attracted nationwide publicity for themselves—and for Palm Springs.

Beachcombers Five Cops Crown in TGH Officers Circuit

Beachcombers five of the Torney General Hospital Officers Bowling loop took the title when they withstood an attack by the Snafus who had a mathematical chance to tie them for the top in the last game of the season.

But the situation WAS normal and the Beachcombers took the crown.

Following them are the Grem-lins, Snafus and PMS.

Staff Sergeant Harry Tick got a tee shot off the 18th at the Desert Golf course to plant his flag the greatest distance from home in the 21st Ferrying Group Flag tournament last week and walked off with first honors, a $25 war bond donated by Frank Portnoy, well known Villager.

Major Frank Thornquest got on the 17th green with his last allotted stroke while Capt. Joseph Caraway used his last blow to go into the trap off the 17th for third place.

Close behind the leaders and making it a race all of the way were Capt. Maurice Conn and M/Sgt. Bill Salis.

S/Sgt. Gordon S. Plunkett essayed the role of rear guard and copped the consolation prize.

They All Fall For Village In A Hurry

It doesn't take long to "sell" them on the Village.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Mack of Berkeley spent three weeks here this spring on their first visit.

When they departed last week they went with the firm intention of becoming regular winter visitors and have made plans to arrive in January to stay to the end of the season.

An RAF man says that when the Royal Air Force was formed, the Stationery Office was told to prepare a special edition of King's Regulations by altering the word "soldier" to "airman" wherever "soldier" occurred in the book that was the basis of Army discipline.

This was done—and even now, the informant asserts, one paragraph of the RAF version reads: "No airman may sleep more than 100 yards away from his horse."

THE SMOKE TREE

In the arid regions of the world, the leaves of plants are often greatly reduced or wanting, an adaptation which prevents excessive evaporation. The whole Cactus family, with very many species, follows this rule. In the African deserts we see what appear to be cacti; but are in fact members of another family of plants, having milky juice. There are indeed plenty of prickly pear cacti in Africa, but they have been inroduced from America, originally for the purpose of feeding the cochineal insect. Also in Africa we find little desert plants, looking exactly like stones, until the delicate flowers appear. Among all these leafless or nearly leafless plants of dry regions, the Smoke Tree is one of the most famous. It has, when very young, according to Jaeger, broad leaves like ordinary plants, but these soon disappear, and the grown plant appears leafless, and very spiny. The fragrant, dark blue flowers appear in June and July, and hence are not seen by the majority of visitors to Palm Springs, who sometimes think there are no flowers. The actual discoverer of the Smoke Tree appears to have been the famous John C. Fremont, who in addition to his numerous other occupations, collected plants. He brought back a fragmentary specimen in 1849, but three years later George Thurber, of the Mexican Boundary Commission, procured good material, and Asa Gray, professor of Botany at Harvard University, was able to describe it, calling it Dalea spinosa. C. F. Saunders gives an interesting account of Thurber. "For four years (1850-54) he was an industrious collector along the Mexican border and added greatly to the knowledge of its Botany—an excellent botanist and one of the best hearted of men, according to his companions. There are, perhaps, some still living who remember his genial 'Doctor's Talks' for the children in the American Agriculturist, of which for twenty years he was the editor."

The genus Dalea or Parosela has several species in our desert country, but the Smoke Tree is much the largest and most modified. Other species, such as the Emory Dalea, the California Dalea and the Fremont Dalea, are permanently leafy. The genus is named after an English botanist, Samuel Dale (1659-1739), and includes about 150 species, chiefly Mexican, but also found in South America. It is one of the numerous forms of life which have extended from the south into our southwestern arid region, but this took place so long ago that distinct species have evolved. In Jaeger's book, Desert Wild Flowers, the genus is called Parosela. It appears that this is actually the older name and should have priority, but the International Botanical Congress voted to keep the name Dalea, which was in general use. This was rather unfortunate because of confusion with Dahlia which many people pronounce Day-lia. There is a Mexican species, Dalea mutabilis, which is cultivated in green-houses. Attempts have been made to dig up and transplant the smoke tree, but they have not been successful. However, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Leigh, of Smoke Tree Ranch, have found that it can easily be raised from seed. The seeds are sown in a can or some such receptacle, and after they have sprouted, the bottom of the can is removed, and it is planted in the ground. The roots will enter the ground below, and the can may be removed, Jaeger says that in the wild the seeds sprout following showers and hot days. "Their further development is however, very dependant upon well-spaced timely summer downpours. Most of the small plants succumb because of drought, and many of those remaining are suffocated under sand washed over them during subsequent summer sheet floods. They are always in the bottoms of loose sandy washes in the very path of the rush of waters." The smoke tree is found in the Colorado desert and the southern part of the Mohave desert, in what is called the Lower Sonoran Life Zone. It extends into Arizona and southward into Northern Sonora and lower California. The popular name is of course derived from its appearance, suggesting smoke. It is sometimes called Tree-pea, and among the Mexicans Palo Blanco,

Would Rather Serve Than Electioneer

There are five candidates for the Assembly to be voted on at the May 16 election, and the name of each one appears on both the Democratic and Republican ballots. Not one of them is an incumbent, so any one would be a new member of the State Legislature. However, Phil Boyd gave us the best reason why he would like to get the nomination of both parties. Instead of having to spend his time again in a long campaign from May 16 until the November election, he would study the needs of every section of the county, state legislative procedure, and any other matters that a legislator should know. Then he could go to Sacramento, not as a green legislator, but ready to go into action for Riverside County. His attitude is commendable.

However, Mr. Boyd has had considerable experience in dealing with legislators, municipal, county, state and federal, during his term as mayor of Palm Springs and for some years before. The writer had occasion to observe his sense of fair play in straightening out a difficult situation when Palm Springs aspired to become an incorporated city. Every other section in the Palm Springs area is Indian reservation, and one of these sections was inhabited not only by Indians, but by whites and colored people. They were governed by the Indian bureau in Washington, and were subject to few of the county and state laws and probably none of the proposed city laws. Naturally, the residents of Palm Springs and most of the residents of the reservation were vitally interested in what might happen on the reservation. Mr. Boyd recognized that all of these people had their rights and these must be recognized in working out a solution. Thus he came in close and frequent contact with legislators in Riverside, Sacramento and Washington, and a solution, satisfactory to all, was obtained, with the result that all of Palm Springs, including the reservation, has good government, police and fire protection.

We are particularly impressed with Phil Boyd's honesty, earnestness, and fair dealing. He is diplomatic, and knows how to get the co-operation of his colleagues, therefore we can expect recognition for Riverside county when and if Phil Boyd goes to Sacramento.

Mothers' Day, 1944

Mothers all over America this Mothers' Day will have but one hope—that this war will end soon; one prayer—that their sons will be among those who march proudly down Main street to receive the well deserved acclaim of their friends and neighbors; one vision—a world where their sons and their sons' sons will never again feel the cruel grip of war or parents know the heartbreak of receiving terse little messages, "We regret to inform you that your son was killed in action. . ."

It is to these mothers and to those who have received the message "... your son was wounded in action. . . ." or "... your son is missing in action", or to the thousands of other mothers, who wait at home day after day, knowing that their sons are in action, that our hearts should go out to this Mothers' Day. They are brave soldiers too. We have yet to hear one complain, but greying hair and wrinkles, where there were none before, show what they are going through.

Vote Yes On No. 2

Amendment No. 2 on the ballot at the special election, May 16, should have the support of every voter of this state. The proposed amendment to the state constitution eliminates the present exemption of property belonging to the United States, to require taxation of such property, where not exempt under federal laws.

With 43 percent of the area of the state now owned by the federal government and 45.3 percent of the area of the county removed from taxation because it belongs to the U. S. Government, one can very readily see the necessity of taking some of the tax burden off the people of the state and county by voting a portion of this property back on to the tax rolls.

"I Rise to Remark"

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHELIPS

Some bright manufacturer got himself a contract to furnish 13,000 sets of 3-star shoulder insignia, for the post exchanges. As of April 1st, there were 33 lieutenant generals in active service, including retired officers returned to duty.

How many readers of this column remember the bridles for the horses, in the last war? As I recall, every available or possible horse had a dozen or more bridles on order. I don't bring these things up to quibble over a few stars or bridles, bought in the confusion of war. By reducing the examples to things we know and readily understand, we may get some conception of the extravagances of war, particularly under the duplication of functions, and the inexperience and ineptitude we see down here in Washington.

We managed to get through World War I with only 30 federal administrative agencies, including the war bureaus. Today there are 205 federal departments, commissions, boards and bureaus. As I have risen before to remark, one has to count them each time before making such a statement, just as a rabbit breeder has to count his rabbits before saying how many he has that day.

I particularly object to the overlapping authorities. It is bad enough to have more federal employees in many states than there are state employees, but what does it do to the war effort to have seven agencies all duplicating the buying of foods and the administration of the food program? Until Mr. Baruch struck at the inefficiency of the rubber program, seven agencies had been muddling those waters for ten months. That didn't produce rubber! The oil program had, and probably still has, five agencies interested in it. Labor laws and regulations are administered by 17 agencies.

Certain departments of government are trained for certain functions. Suddenly we have a war, what happens? Do the regular departments get the jobs they are trained to handle? No, entirely new agencies filled with inexperienced and starry-eyed young men spring up like mushrooms to do these same things. The State Department, the War and Navy Departments, the Department of Agriculture, sit by and see the things they know so well how to do put into the hands of the slide rule boys.

A Military Affairs subcommittee reported some months ago that there were 840,578 young men between 18 and 37 in government service. The number went down to 646,253 in four months as a result of Congressional interest. Today, from the best available figures, the number of men between the ages of 18 and 37 in government service is 359,859, which peculiarly includes civilian employees in the War Department but not those in the Navy Department. Consequently, we must add the 140,000, approximately, in the latter to make 499,859 and also a few odds and ends like the civilian employees between these ages in the TVA. A minimum addition would be 20,000; call the total 520,000 men between 18 and 37 now in government service.

Two weeks ago the Appropriations Committee reported to the House that in the Interior Department out of a total of 27,957 employees, 6,696 were men between the ages of 18 and 37. Of these, the committee says 2,221 were deferred for occupational reasons; 2,073 at the specific request of the Department.

The Draft Board classification of this group is as follows (taking only the larger items): 1,090 immediately available for military service; 1,198 deferred, necessary in civilian activity; 1,058 deferred, necessary to the war effort; 1,671 deferred because of dependency. Only 1,024 are unfit for service. With Selective Service scraping the bottom of the barrel for married men with dependents, these figures become increasingly interesting.

PSYCHO-POTTERY — Almost out-dreaming the most daring of our new school of "home-dreamers," the ceramists have come out with the promise of "a set of dishes for every mood." After the war, the Ceramic Society was recently told, every home will have a dozen set of dishes. Colors and designs will be unlimited. No matter how nasty or cheerful the family disposition it can be expressed in the table setting. Hangovers may be relieved with a pink cup of black coffee and a household row may be expressed in a shattering of plates. The ceramic prophet said dishes will be cheap and will be sold "high-pressure," like automobiles and refrigerators.

Craemer Makes Big Gains in Race for Senate Nomination

Rural California will probably out-vote metropolitan districts at California's May primary, it was declared today by Roy Brown, publisher of the San Rafael Independent, following a state-wide survey — and Justus Craemer, one of the major contenders for U. S. Senator, is rapidly gaining in strength with rural voters.

Publisher Brown, member of a newspapermen's committee campaigning for Craemer, has accompanied the candidate on his tour of many sections of the state, and asserted:

"There is a very definite swing to Justus Craemer in the United States Senate race throughout the state, and Craemer's support in the rural districts is mounting rapidly. That is a very significant trend, for the city voters seem apathetic about the primary election and it is probable that the rural vote will dominate."

"Wherever Justus Craemer speaks, and gives the voters his forthright stand on the issues now confronting the people, the response is favorable—and I believe that Mr. Craemer's campaign has made far greater headway during recent weeks than that of any other candidate."

Hot Springs Resident Dies

Mrs. Anna Schroder, 54, passed away at her home in Desert Hot Springs, May 7. She is survived by her husband, Axel A. Schroder, and two children who live in Seattle, Wash. She and her husband have resided on the desert for a number of years.

Funeral services, which will be in charge of Wiefels and Son, will not be held until after the arrival of one of the children from Seattle.

Vectographs, aerial photographs which become three-dimensional when viewed through special polarized spectacles, and which can be "shot" by aerial cameras in planes flying 350 miles per hour, have been used in the war against the Japs for over a year, it is revealed.

Prize Winners In Library Literary Contest Announced

Winners in the first annual Junior Writers' contest sponsored by the Welwood Murray Memorial Library were awarded certificates of honor and $5 cash prizes Wednesday at the Palm Springs high school assembly by Francis F. Crocker, president of the library board.

Erica Orth won the prize for the best poem, her "November Night" scoring first with most of the judges.

Carol Burkett was awarded the top honors for the best essay.

Judges were Mrs. Willard Price, Mrs. Melba Bennett, Francis F. Crocker, R. F. Graettinger and Carl G. Lykken.

Order Your Printing NOW For Next Season

It will pay you to have your printing done during the Summer Months and thus avoid the rush that always occurs at the beginning of the Fall and Winter Season.

It is certain the supply of paper will be much less next Fall than it is now for the shortage is becoming more serious each day. However, we still have a fair supply on hand and so far have been able to satisfy our customers although in many cases it has been necessary to substitute as brands used before the war are no longer available.

We employ only expert printers, pressmen, linotype operators and other craftsmen. They are thoroughly familiar with the high-class type of work demanded by the people of Palm Springs.

Whenever possible, we would like to have from two weeks to a month to do your printing, as our printing plant ordinarily has orders on hand that far in advance. However, in cases of emergency, we can usually give much quicker service. We generally make deliveries sooner than promised.

Soldiers, Sworn In Together, Then Parted For Almost A Year, Together Again At Palm Springs Army Air Base

Two soldiers, who were sworn into the army at the same time, May 29, 1943, held a re-union this week at the 21st Ferrying Group headquarters here.

It was the first time they had seen each other since they enlisted.

One is Cpl. Jack Rein, Los Angeles, now stationed here, the other, his white German Shepherd war-dog, "Duke".

HE CERTAINLY DID

Six months ago Cpl. Rein received word from the war department that they were contemplating giving "Duke" an honorable discharge and would he like to have him back? He would!

Then on April 29, "Duke" received his discharge and started on his way back to his master. This week he arrived here and although now a civilian, he still is enjoying army life.

REVERSE TRAINING

Before his discharge, "Duke" had to undergo a "re-orientation" course to prepare him for return to civilian life. He still has his ASN V404 stamped on the inside of his left front leg and honorable discharge papers to show he is a veteran of the K-9 outfit.

Cpl. Rein says it's a military secret where "Duke" was during his 11 months in the army but he does know that he did a lot of sentry duty.

A safety factor of the helicopter, according to its developer, Igor Sikorsky, is that the craft can be halted within its length, thus averting crashes due to fog.

George Dennis Is Again Featuring Chicken Dinners

Margaret Lichti this week started her new duties at George Dennis' Village Sandwich shop where she will be in charge of the front end of the cafe during the summer months while Gladys Denton is on vacation.

Miss Denton plans to spend the summer months in Long Beach and upon her return in the fall both will be in charge to handle the increased business.

This week Mr. Dennis inaugurated his fried chicken dinners for which he is famous having made a specialty of them here for the past five years.

Many Villagers thronged the cafe this week to enjoy the treat.

ARMY VETERAN—"Duke," white German Shepherd, shown here with his master, Cpl. Jack Rein, of the army air base here, is a war vet. He served in the army for 11 months, receiving his discharge April 29 and coming here for a reunion with his boss. They both enlisted on the same day, May 29, 1943.

Ambulance on Way To Beat Stork and Truck in Collision

When Mrs. Dorothea Johnson, an expectant mother, thought she heard the stork's wings flapping Monday, she summoned an ambulance for the trip to an Indian hospital. She got there in a private car for at Cathedral City, according to police report, the ambulance and a pickup truck, property of H. A. Snyder, being backed from a driveway, collided. Both vehicles were put out of service and another car took Mrs. Johnson on to Indian. The police report of the accident states that the ambulance's red lights were on and siren sounding.

Mrs. Johnson was later removed to a Los Angeles hospital to await her baby.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mickle of Casa Margarita, 336 Paseo El Mirador, are planning to leave for Banning to spend the summer. They will return to the Village in the fall. They have had as their house guests for the past two weeks, Miss Yvette Echart of Manhattan Beach.

Council Confirms Nominations For Recreation Board

Ten names were presented to city council for members of the Recreation Commission by Mayor Eugene E. Theriau and blanket confirmation was voted by council Tuesday afternoon. Some of them are already members of the commission.

Appointed for the term ending June 30, 1945, were Merrill Crockett, Mrs. Melba Bennett, Mrs. Charles Henderson, Miss Helen A. McCallum.

Appointed for the terms ending June 30, 1946, were Gordon Nicholson, Harold Hicks, Frank W. Cutler, Gordon Feekings, Dr. E. E. Oertel, Miss Katherine Finchy.

Ray Dillon Dies From Heart Attack

Ray B. Dillon, son of County Supervisor and Mrs. Robert E. Dillon of Beaumont, died May 4 at Bakersfield from a heart ailment. He became ill Sunday, April 30, and his parents were called to Bakersfield the day before his death.

The Bakersfield Masonic Lodge and the American Legion post of that city were in charge of the services held in that city Monday morning.

Graveside services were conducted at 2:30 Monday afternoon at Mountain View cemetery in Beaumont. Representatives of the state highway patrol led the funeral procession from the undertaking parlor in Beaumont to the cemetery where the services were conducted by the San Geronio Lodge of Masons. Rev. Harry Dirks, pastor of the First Christian church of Beaumont, delivered a message based on the twenty-third psalm and a firing squad from the Banning post of the American Legion fired a salute. A color guard was formed from members of the Beaumont post. All but one of the county supervisors attended the service and practically all the county officials.

At the end of World War I, North America was confronted with the problem of providing 60 per cent of the world's food supply.

Moonlight Dances On Tennis Courts Featured At Inn

What is more beautiful than moonlight on the desert?

Add to this the festiveness of an out-of-doors dance held on the tennis court in the garden of Desert Inn these warm balmy nights, and you have a picture of the after dark gaiety enjoyed by guests of Desert Inn.

Last Friday evening the brightly colored lights glowed on the court and the orchestra played dance music for students of Palm Springs high school, which was having its yearly prom. The pretty, young, feminine guests added a bright note of color in their lovely print and pastel party dresses. And from the many orchid corsages one would think Palm Springs was located in the heart of South America! The boys, too, added to the picture in their crisp white suits. Also a number of army lads were noted in the crowd—many having graduated from the local high school just last year.

This evening brightly glittering lights will again shine on the tennis court for dancing when young students from Coachella high school assemble at Desert Inn for the final social event on their school calendar.

Desert Inn Dining Rooms Will Close For Season Monday

Many delightful parties marked the closing week at the Desert Inn and many guests arrived to remain the final few days of the season at the famous hostelry.

One smart luncheon party given Friday in De Anza room of Desert Inn had Mrs. A. E. Higgins as hostess. Mrs. Whitworth, of Palm Dusky, Ohio, who is in Palm Springs visiting Mrs. Leland Spore, sat on the hostess' right.

Other guests at the party were Mrs. Spore, Mrs. Lee Bering, Mrs. Guy O. Gwyn, Jr., Mrs. McFadyen, Mrs. Harold Williams and her house guest, Mrs. Thomas of Los Angeles; Mrs. Rodney Sturdevant and her mother, Mrs. Gould. It was a pretty group seated around the table, all wearing bright summer dresses.

BARONESS HERE

Baroness Jean Pellenc with her small daughter, Francene, is here for a week's sojourn. The Baroness' mother, Mrs. Frank J. Kier, accompanied the two from their home in West Los Angeles. Baron Pellenc was in the French army until that country fell, and now is interned in Paris.

"Happy Birthday, to You" was sung one evening last week in the Spanish Room of Desert Inn when Mrs. J. F. Heuer celebrated her anniversary. The honoree, who is the sister of Mrs. J. Watry, a guest at the Inn, spends part of the year in Los Angeles and the other months at Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago. Party guests included Mrs. Watry, Mr. and Mrs. Preston A. Higgins, Miss Anita Heuer, Mrs. Amelia Dieden, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frisch, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker, of Altadena.

Miss Mary Ross, of Los Angeles, is spending several weeks vacationing at the Inn. She is interested in physiotherapy at Rancho del Amigo, Los Angeles county old folks home.

MANY NEW GUESTS

Among guests holidaying at Desert Inn to enjoy the final weeks of this exclusive resort are: Mrs. Barbara Trippitt with her daughter, of Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bryant, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Earle Memory, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lucy Quirk, who writes a smart social column in the Los Angeles Daily News under her by-line, is vacationing here a few days, accompanied by her small daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Morgan have come from Oakland to remain through May 15, when the Desert Inn is to close for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riemer of New York city, spent three days in the desert sunshine this week. Miss Nora Perry will be here from her Beverly Hills home until the middle of the month.

C. E. McStay, of the Los Angeles Automobile club, with Mrs. McStay, is here for a stay of indefinite length. Mrs. J. W. Vintez with Mrs. M. D. Skpoapka have come down to Palm Springs together for a ten-day stay at Desert Inn.

FROM EAST COAST

From the far east have come Mr. and Mrs. Paul Levinger of Providence, Rhode Island. They stayed at the Inn several days before continuing their journey.

Two from Santa Monica, who will be here through mid-May are Miss Dodie Schmuck and Miss Lou Renzi. Mr. and Mrs. Faith Cole, of Camden drive, Beverly Hills, are stopping at the Inn for a week.

A group of five, who checked in May 1 to remain through May 15, include: Mr. and Mrs. Niels Schultz, Millbrae, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Davis, Piedmont; and Mrs. Niels Schultz, Jr., Millbrae. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Becker were here from their Plymouth Blvd., Los Angeles, home until Wednesday, which concluded a ten-day stay.

Our Fabulous Air Corps

The young pilot stepped out of a pursuit ship at a Texas flying field. A major, driving by in a jeep, pulled up, jumped out indignantly when he saw that the pilot was wearing only a pair of shorts. The major gave a long lecture on improper uniform. The pilot kept nodding humbly, saying only "Yes, sir," now and then.

At the major's command, he dove into his plane, and came out pulling on his shirt. The major hopped into his jeep, and gasped when he noticed the insignia on the shirt: a colonel's silver eagles.—This Week.

Over a two-year period the automotive industry delivered more than $14 billion worth of war materials to the armed forces.

Anniversaries Are Featured At Tennis Club During Week

Two wedding anniversaries were observed together at the Palm Springs Tennis club Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper, 23 years wed, entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Austin McManus, whose 30th anniversary it was. Other guests were Mrs. Noble Banks, Mrs. Arch Wilson, Mrs. James Rayon and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. A. Peake.

On the same evening Mrs. Ralph Milles entertained for Mrs. Walter McManus who was observing a birthday anniversary. Besides Mr. and Mrs. McManus guests were Mrs. Clarence Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stephens and Captain Dan McGuire.

Among others at the gay Saturday night gathering to feast on barbecued lamb chops on the terrace and to dance later were Mrs. F. D. Johnson with a party of five, Mr. and Mrs. Wick with six guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Dean.

During the cocktail hour Allene Laird, pianist, and M. R. Ray, guitarist, entertained with enjoyable music.

At Thursday night's party a barbecued ham supper was served on the terrace followed by the weekly Bingo party and among those noted present were Mr. and Mrs. John Munholland, Mrs. Grace Robert, Mrs. Noble Banks, Mrs. James Potter and two house guests, Mrs. Bruce Buttitt.

Felix provided smooth rhythm for the Sunday tea dance and all through the week the tennis courts and swimming pool proved highly popular.

The barbecued dinners on the terrace have been much enjoyed by members and guests and will be continued for a time as will be the play on the courts and swimming.

Community Choir Joins In Hilarious Hard-Times Party

Community church choir went to a Hard Times party last Tuesday night and hilarity reigned supreme. The party was at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Hooker and Mrs. A. J. Jenner was co-hostess. Mrs. Betty Spears, daughter of Mrs. Hooker assisted.

An abundance of talent was unearthed as members of the choir did specialty numbers and the costumes were cleverly in keeping with the theme of the party.

One of the cleverest numbers was a piano duet by Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Spear, "McGinty's First Love," the duet animated by Mrs. Violet Fowler and Mrs. Leona Markham.

Mrs. Holly Lash Visel sang "My Man" in costume and there were piano solos by Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Lois Lux.

Mrs. M. Gibson, mother of Mildred Gibson, was first for clever costumes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

This declaration of Paul to the Corinthians will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Mortals and Immortals" in all branches of The Mother Church. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston: "As ye have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

According to a Lesson-Sermon account from Matthew's Gospel, "Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart; And was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, . . . And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him. . . and a voice out of the cloud, . . . said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid." Jesus said, "Arise, and be not afraid. And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says: "The admission to one's self that man is God's own likeness sets man free to master the infinite idea. This conviction shuts the door on death, and opens it wide towards immortality."

Masonic Service Men's Quarters to Be Closed Sunday

It was announced, with regret, this week by the Masonic club of Palm Springs that they would not be able to maintain their quarters at the entrance to the Desert Inn grounds for the accommodation of service men during the summer months.

Cooperation of the Desert Inn management in making the quarters possible and the help of all who so generously gave of their time to maintain the service since it was inaugurated last winter, are sincerely appreciated, a spokesman for the committee declared.

The service will come to an end Sunday, May 14, and it is hoped to renew it in the fall.

Special Mothers' Day Address At Episcopal Church

"Heroic Motherhood" will be the subject of the sermon by the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth at St. Paul's in the Desert, Episcopal church next Sunday, Mothers' Day.

"Mothers' Day, the effort of our too complacent modern age to compensate for long neglect of rightful honor to our mothers, is here to stay," Rev. Hogarth said. "Each year that goes by makes it stronger and more full of the deep abiding things of life. And now, in the uncertainties of warm the tendrils of many young hearts across miles of intervening space are still pulsating with life as they feel the strong patient heroism of the patron saint of the home."

JUSTUS CRAEMER

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

ON MAY 16th

Justus Craemer is the candidate who knows California and its problems . . . The man who is for sound government by the people . . . The man who will fight wasteful, selfish bureaucracy . . . The RIGHT man to represent us in the United States Senate.

"Let's have JUSTUS in Washington"

May We Introduce

BY JO AND BOB

GIRL OF THE WEEK:

The girl of the week was born in Pasadena, California, December 17, 1927. She has brown eyes and brown hair. From head to toe she is 5 feet, 3 inches tall.

Her favorite food is filet mignons, with mushroom sauce. Her love life has left her and has gone to New Guinea. He is Sgt. Oliver Wright. After the war is over she wants to go to Rhode Island.

Glenn Miller is her favorite band leader, and Blue Rain is her favorite record if it is played by Miller. Her favorite sport is "sailing" (just call her Admiral!) Her favorite class is American Problems (so she can talk all the time). Her favorite teacher is Mrs. Kathryn Martin. Her Pet Peeve is bashful boys. (Oh! brother-) She pals around with Petronilla M., Lila Lee L., and Edie D., and last but not least her favorite ambition is to be a psychologist. (We wonder why!)

If you do not know who she is by now may we introduce—Carolyn Cobb.

BOY OF THE WEEK:

All of you will miss this lively senior boy next year because it looks as if he'll be one of those mighty seniors who will receive that coveted diploma in a couple of weeks.

This "fella" is a decided blond. (Don't ask who decided or when) He has blue eyes. He is only 5' 5" tall and weighs 120 pounds. He hails from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was born Dec. 17, 1926.

Tom Dorsey's orchestra is definitely his favorite, and "Taboo" by Stan Kenton is his favorite of the juke-box records.

I inquired, of course, about his love life and he said "I'm afraid of women (even high school girls) because all they want to do is gazooz."

His favorite sport is track. And when he has nothing better to do he likes to play ping pong and poker.

This "fella" is a very active senior. He is treasurer of the senior class, and this "little man" is Big Chief of the tribe.

His life would be complete if his coveted ambition would come to pass—that is, to inherit a million dollars so he wouldn't have to work—ever. (Now don't get the idea he's lazy — maybe it's just the heat.)

Don't forget to see the Senior Play at the Plaza Friday night because this lad has one of the leads.

Yes, it's our own Andy Hardy, only his name is Robert Carrall Morrison—Bob to most of you.

GAZZOZIT

(By "CECIL")

There's no doubt about it, last weekend was one of those periods that won't be forgotten for a long time.

The long awaited Junior-Senior Prom took place Friday night at the Desert Inn, and the Juniors now rest assured that everyone had a good time (that is if the smiles on their faces have anything to do with it.)

Second event on the social calendar for last weekend was another of those already famous parties given by Bob Dart. Swimming, dancing and eating were enjoyed by the members of the Junior and Senior classes.

Palm Springs Hi was very fortunate in walking off with two league championships Saturday. The track meet in Coachella sent the Indians home with its second championship in the last two years, and it will also send our first placers to Ontario later on.

The Girls' Tennis matches were also played on Saturday, and the girls, like the boys, came out ahead. That gives us four league championships for the year: baseball, track, boys' and girls' tennis. And it might be pointed out that we took second in basketball.

Bernita Arakelian gave a small swimming party on Wednesday.

Barbara and Paul were among those splashing in the pool. Two ole timers invaded the campus of P. S. H. S. on Monday morning and report that they are here for the rest of the year. They are Shirley Morris and Don Whitehead. Shirley has been living in L. A. and Don in San Diego.

How did you Junior and Senior girls like the Sinatra ties at the Prom? Pretty zooty, huh?

The flowers worn by the girls were really beautiful, too. Helene Hanbury wore two orchids, given her by her escort, Jerry Tracy. Trudy Sawyer, with yellow iris on a pale blue dress was really striking. Trudy, of course, was escorted by Bob Lienau.

By the way, reports are coming in that Mary Cornman and Art Jones are going steady. Good luck to you both.

Have you heard about a certain bet concerning Dick Sherman??? If you haven't you're the only one.

Don't forget the Senior play on Friday, May 12. When press time rolls around, if you don't have your ticket, they can be bought at the box office the night of the play. Come on, let's see all of you at the Plaza Theater Friday night at 8:00.

Well, here is a review of that ever-ready Junior Class, members of which will be your Seniors next year:

Bernita Arakelian: Big ole harri cars and cute clothes.
Colin Bragg: Navy bound, one swell guy.
John Chaffey: Card.
Alfred Crossley: "Al," member of the "W. B." club.
Robert F. Dart: Junior class president. Mr. Five by Five.
Wendell Delano: Cute horn on his car, good football material.
Frank Devers: Our pitching star.

Edith Dunigan: "Edie", diamond given her by Greer.
Barbara Emigh: "Zeke."
Harold Emigh: "J. B." good man, personality plus.

Bob Fern: Homeland broge, Babs Neel.
Violet Fletcher: Never has anything to say.

Maryann Gorcester: Brain.
Helma Groning: U. S. Army.
Bob Hann: Singin' "Marie", card if there ever was one.

Barbara Inman: Gillar Boyd, also cute kid.
Arthur Jones: Cute cartoons, civics brain, Mary.

Paul Kaitukoff: Drummin' man.
Eric Liebenow: "Erc", Lime-

Track Title Goes to Palm Springs High School Team

P. S. H. S. has another championship to put on her records. The Indian track squad went to Coachella Saturday morning to participate in the East Riverside County Track Meet. They brought back with them the Varsity Championship which they have won for two years in succession.

Joe Sandeffer, the P. S. H. S. "iron man," hit the high point mark of the meet. He won the 220 yard dash, 880 yard run, and the hop-step-jump, and was on the winning relay team. This gave him a total of 16 1/4 points. Capt. Jerry Tracy was second high point man with 14 points to his credit. He won the 220 L. H., 120 H. H., and a 2nd in the broad jump.

A new league record was made in the 100 yard dash by Bob Bell, his time being 10.2. The Indian relay team composed of Bob Bell, Dick Sherman, Bob Lienau, Joe Sandeffer, came within 3/5 of a second of passing the league record which is 1.35.8s for the 880.

One of the highlights of the meet occurred when Bob Morrison, P. S. miler, beat Coachella's champion miler by 20 yards. Bob was also close on Barrett's heels, runner from Beaumont. His time was 4.58s.

Following are the names of the boys who took first places in the Varsity: Joe Sandeffer, Bob Bell, Jerry Tracy and Dick Sherman.

The "C"s took four first places, winners being: George Roemer, Ralph Galzerano, Garland Privitt, T. Flynn and Al Tartaglia.

Boys who won a first in the league meet get to go to Chaffey high school, Ontario, where the Divisional meet will be held. If any of these contestants happen to pull a first place they will get to go to the Southern California meet at the Coliseum in Los Angeles.

The school is going to award the track team a beautiful bronze trophy which will have marked on it "Championship II."

The final scores of the Coachella meet were reported as follows:

	P. S.	C. B.	E. B.	Ba.
Varsity	72	45	30	23
"B"	32	42	12	43
"C"	43	45	20	9

light apprentice printer.

Bob Lienau: Best lookin' Jr. boy, Trudy, personality plus.
Lila Lee Lilley: Wolfe.
Sally Lockett: Sweet.

Morris McClure: Our trumpet man.

McKinley McDaniels: "Mac," one swell guy.
Paul Mashburn: The silent type.

Warner Moore: "Gunder," cute car, good man.
Cecile Morris: "Cecil" (nothing more needs to be said).

Petronilla Mutascio: That gal with the "funny name."
Babs Neel: Best lookin' Jr. girl, Fern, Carnival queen.

John Outcalt: "Jay Oh," someone'll hook him someday.
Trudy Sawyer: Bob Lienau, good personality.

Dick Sherman: Wisconsin, and Norma from Oklahoma, rather dense.

Maurice Smith: "Smitty," Norma, cute car.
Don Sorum: Silence is golden.

Margaret Walker: "Margie," Texas.
Mildred Woolhouse: Secret love life—the silent type.

Warren Gallagher: "Zeke." We all remember our basket ball star.

That winds up the Junior class, as seen on the campus.

Seen around town: Jim Dart and Edie, Jay Oh and Doris Humphreys from Flintridge, and Joe and Hookey—Warner and Jo.

From Loyola High: Don Omlin was down again.

Desert Inn Proves Ideal Setting for Junior-Senior Prom; Grounds, Moon And Music Aid In Enjoyment

BY TRUDY SAWYER

No. P. S. H. S. Junior Prom was Friday evening when the class of '45 entertained the graduating Seniors.

Gentle zephyrs carried the scent of fragrant flowers . . . a full moon bathed graceful palm trees in glistening light . . . This tropical night and the Desert Inn made the perfect setting for the gala affair.

Three large bouquets of snapdragons in rainbow colors were placed on the long dinner table. Place cards were inscribed by Mr. Max Vaucher, art teacher.

OFFICIALS PRESENT

Menu for the dinner, served at 8:00, consisted of appetizers: fruit cocktail; cream of tomato soup, roast turkey, brown gravy, potatoes, peas, and apple sauce; ice cream and cake, and coffee.

After dinner Bob Dart, Junior class president, introduced Dr. E. E. Oertel who spoke a few words and in turn introduced the Senior class president, Helen Louise Williams, who cordially thanked the Juniors for the Prom.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell and Mr. and Mrs. John Sprague, Jr., representing the high school board of trustees, and most of the faculty members were present at the Prom.

DANCE ON COURTS

The crowning beauty and romance in the local setting was experienced during the dancing in the court where a pavilion glistening under multi-colored lights was bordered by a profusion of oleander blossoms.

The high honor of the evening was bestowed upon Helen Louise Williams as she was crowned Queen of the Prom by Dr. Frank Purcell who presented her a lovely crown of pink carnations which blended in with her formal of aqua blue. A huge orchid which added to the beauty and softness of the neckline of the formal outlined in ruffles. Helen Louise and her escort, Lee Gilbert, led the Prom Waltz.

STRIKING PICTURE

Norma Mabrey and Maurice Smith presented a striking picture. Norma was dressed in a white pique formal with bows outlining the neck and inlaid in the skirt. An orchid on her left shoulder added color. This contrasted with "Smitty's" white dinner jacket, dark trousers and bow tie.

Mary Ann Gorcester, accompanied by Eric Liebenow, was dressed in a strapless red and white dotted swiss formal with an irregular pattern of red rick-

Final Concert by High School Band Presented May 10

The blare of trumpets and the roll of drums started a brilliant fanfare Wednesday, 7th period, which introduced the 3rd Annual Band Concert. The high school band, under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Clarke Grant began the program with service songs. These were: "Songs of the Navy," "Anchors Aweigh," Navy Victory March, "Marine Hymn" and "The Caissons Go Rolling Along."

The second part of the program was an overture, "The Princess of India." This overture was played for the Open House, April 26. Many parents and guests said that the overture was the highlight of the evening.

P. S. H. S. Swing Band concluded the 45-minute program with four popular numbers, "Gin Mill Special," "Sherman Shuffle," "Don't Cry Baby," and "In a Mellow Tone."

Mrs. Grant said today, "The band has worked very hard and I know everyone can see a big improvement over last year."

The band musicians who took part in the program are:

Clarinet: John Chaffey, Arthur Jurado, Don Sorum; Trombone, Ralph Galzerano; Saxophones: Gillar Boyd, McKinley McDaniels, Frank Devers, Bob Salazar, John Ward.

rack which trimmed the neck and skirt. Her corsage of gardenias was worn on her right hip.

Mary Cornman, escorted by Paul Kaitukoff, wore a dress of aqua blue with tiny pink roses forming a pattern. Mary's corsage was gardenias and several roses, which she wore on her left shoulder.

NICE TO LOOK AT

A dress of white satin with bands of blue ribbon worn under white net was worn by Babs Neel. Her corsage was a lovely orchid. Babs' escort was Bob Fern, who wore a tan suit and "Sinatra" bow tie.

A dress of the Southern colonial period with blue net skirt and black lace bodice—the lace being repeated in gloves—was worn by Mrs. Artie Lee Butler Murphy, whose escort was Lt. L. B. Murphy. A nosegay worn on a black ribbon around the neck added beauty to Artie Lee's dress.

Jo King and escort Warner Moore were among those attending the Prom. Jo wore a dress of white net and lace with a sweetheart neck and elbow length sleeves which were trimmed in tiny net ruffles. Two gardenias were worn at the back of her neck in a fashionable hair dress.

PRESENT EYEFUL

Crisp blue and white dotted swiss with tiny rickrack on fluffly ruffles which outlined the neck characterized the dress worn by Barbara Emigh, escorted by Wendell Delano. Barbara wore a single gardenia in her hair and a corsage of three on her dress.

Doris Girod made a striking picture in a dress of blue with sparkling ornaments scattered about the full skirt. Doris wore three gardenias which graced the neckline of her dress. Colin Bragg was Doris' escort for the evening.

SPANISH ACCENT

A Spanish accent was added to the party by the pink net dress and black fascinator worn by Lila Lee Lilley. Among the military guests was Lila's escort, Pfc. Kenny Harold.

Toni Lowe Blackburn wore a dress of blue net with blue lace forming a pattern down the front and around the bottom of the full skirt. The puff sleeves and sweetheart neck line was emphasized by a corsage of gardenias and pink rose buds. Toni's escort was Harold Emigh.

TYPICAL COUPLE

Sallie Lockett and her escort for the evening, Bob Bell, were a typical Prom couple. Sallie wore a dress of blue and pink print which was repeated in a corsage of pink carnations and blue larkspur which she wore in her hair.

The Desert Inn orchestra provided music for the dancing after dinner. Such well known numbers as Besame Mucho, Begin the Beguine, Star Dust, Blue Danube, Green Eyes, I'll Never Smile Again, My Ideal, and I'll Get By were played throughout the evening. The closing number was Home Sweet Home.

Palm Springs High Girls Win League Crown On Courts

BY BARBARA EMIGH

Girls of P. S. H. S. are sharing in the glory of the four league championships that have been won by P. S. H. S. this spring.

The Girls' Tennis Team won the East Riverside County Tennis Championship Saturday, May 6, with a total of 24 points.

The league includes Banning, Beaumont, Coachella and Palm Springs, each of these towns being represented by a team of six girls, with the exception of Beaumont which was not represented.

AT TENNIS CLUB

The eighteen girls and their coaches met at the local high school Saturday morning at 8:15. The girls were introduced to their opponents and assigned to their courts where the singles were played off.

Through the courtesy of Austin McManus, of the Tennis Club, six girls played on these excellent courts.

Lt. Joseph T. Byrd of Torney General Hospital made it possible for six more girls to play on these courts.

The remaining matches were played on the high school courts.

SINGLES RESULTS

The results of the singles were as follows:

No. 1 players — Mary Abdun-Nur (P. S.) winner; Norma Kirby, (Banning).

No. 2 players — Helen Louise Williams (P. S.) Winner; Margaret Wilkin (Coachella).

No. 3 players — Mae Andrew (Banning) Winner; Barbara Smith (P. S.)

No. 4 players — Doris Girod (P. S.) Winner; Barbara Stacey (Banning).

No. 5 players — Shirley Patch (Banning) Winner; Olga Ponce (Coachella).

No. 6 players — Janice McCann (Banning) Winner; Norma Jean Mabrey (P. S.)

LUNCHEON AFFAIR
At 12 o'clock all girls returned to the high school where the Palm Springs girls acted as hostesses and where lunch was served.

The menu consisted of cold

Responsibilities Of Employers to Veterans Outlined

An official summary of federal laws on responsibility of employers to returning war veterans is now on file at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Walter Kofeldt, executive secretary, said today.

"With 3500 men being discharged monthly by the army in California alone, there are bound to be some from Palm Springs. Local employers who wish to learn what their responsibilities are, may consult the digest of the laws here. It was prepared by A. J. Lundberg, chairman of the special committee on manpower of the state chamber of commerce."

sandwiches, potato salad, macaroni, ice cream and cookies. The food was prepared by some of the girls with the aid of Mrs. 'Cookie' Bartlett, school cafeteria manager.

The girls rested until two o'clock because of the hot sun and resumed playing the double matches on the high school courts.

DOUBLES RESULTS

The results of the doubles were:

No. 1 players — Mary Abdun-Nur and Helen Louise Williams (P. S.) Winners; Doris Drollinger and Margaret Wilkin (Coachella).

No. 2 players — Barbara Stacey and Shirley Patch (Banning) Winners; Olga Ponce and Vela Hernandez (Coachella).

No. 3 players — Barbara Emigh and Norma Mabrey (P. S.) Winners; Mae Andrew and Janice McCann (Banning).

At 5 o'clock all games had been played off and the coaches, Mrs. Varney (Banning), Miss Larken (Coachella), and Mr. Vaucher (Palm Springs) called the girls together under the trees and gave the results of the tournament.

Girls who receive their tennis letters from Palm Springs are: Mary Abdun-Nur, Helen Louise Williams, Barbara Smith, Doris Girod, Barbara Emigh and Norma Mabrey. The letters were presented in assembly, May 10.

Autoists Warned
Not to Expect Too
Much Or Too Soon

Rumors that gasoline, like meat, would be more available soon were dashed this week when William A. Lippman, local war price and rationing board, revealed that OPA communicates this week held out little hope for any early relaxation of rigid rationing.

"If anything, gasoline restrictions promise to be tighter before additional motor fuel can be allocated for motorists," he said. Mr. Lippman based his prediction on statements by James G. Rogers, of Washington, D. C., chief deputy administrator of the OPA, in the southland this week to confer with coast OPA officials.

"When supplies are large enough after meeting war needs, gasoline will go off rationing the same as meat did," Rogers said.

Complete Answer

When you lose one of your ration books and apply to the OPA for a new one, you have to fill out a lengthy form setting forth the exact circumstances of the loss. One of the questions asked is, "What did you do to try to get the book back?" We have heard, through devious channels, of a lady who answered this so convincingly that she got another book back by return mail. "Looked everywhere," she wrote, in a large, round hand.—The New Yorker.

Season of Much Activity Is Closed By Palm Springs Red Cross As Gears Are Shifted For the Summer Months

Closing a season of continuous and successful work in various projects of the Red Cross, directors of the Palm Springs Branch met Wednesday with their new chairman, Harold C. West of Bank of America, in the chair. Reports from committee chairmen indicated that there had been little, if any, spring let down in the work carried on at Torney Hospital and at local headquarters during April.

The local Red Cross headquarters will be open during the summer months twice weekly on Mondays and Fridays with the hours 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. During these periods volunteer workers for the making of surgical dressings are greatly needed, according to Mrs. Jeri Debose, Sr., who will take over the chairmanship of production during the summer months. Mrs. Jeri Debose, Jr., will take over the chairmanship of the Volunteer Special Service committee which will continue its service to enlisted men and their families throughout the summer. Volunteers are also greatly needed to attend to the office requirements at Red Cross headquarters during the summer months.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

An executive committee was appointed at Wednesday's meeting by Chairman West with the members, Mrs. Frank Cutler, Mrs. Mildred Selinger, Mrs. Florence Lockett, Mrs. Dorothy Boyd, Mrs. Marvin Ostrander and Carl Haymond.

Other summer chairmen to be appointed Wednesday include Mrs. Ray, in charge of Home Service during the absence of Mrs. Frank Cutler, chairman; Mrs. Hoppe, Canteen; Mrs. Harold Murphy for Hospital and Recreation; Mrs. Margaret Walker, Motor Corps; Mrs. Walker will serve as permanent chairman of this committee due to the resignation of Mrs. Maurice Libbott; Miss Dorothy Bear of the Palm Springs Public Library will serve as press chairman, and Mrs. James B. Oliver as secretary in place of Mrs. John Chaffey.

New directors appointed to the board were Mrs. Walter Melrose

Plane Missing Two Months Is Located

Mystery of a missing B-24 bomber which disappeared enroute from Blythe to San Bernardino March 3 and for which a search was conducted in the mountains back of Palm Springs, was cleared this week when the craft was found wrecked in the mountains east of Cajon pass.

Bodies of the four men found in the plane were taken to San Bernardino. Names have not yet been released.

STILL COMING IN

While the absolute and final figure is not yet available on Palm Springs total for the Red Cross War Fund drive, as dilatory, if generous contributors are still being heard from, it looks as though Palm Springs would top $34,000 before it is done with. The quota, which looked discouraging at first glimpse, was $24,000. Last year's final total was around $18,000 with the quota set for Palm Springs, $10,800.

PORTRAIT OF THE WEEK

By BERNARD

Meet Sun Siren Sally (howzat for a tongue-twister?) Robinson. Sally's been in our . . . town . . . for the past two years. She's a Freshman . . . says she likes parties, dancing and boys. Hasn't quite made up her mind as to what she wants to be . . . but is definite that she wants to go to College. She JUST LOVES Palm Springs . . . but states she will not be here next year. Why? Maybe on account of gas rationing. Page Bill Lippman, O.P.A. Chief.

Daughters Guests of Palm Springs Lions At Luncheon

Fathers and Daughters day was observed by Palm Springs Lions club in their last meeting of the season at the Desert Inn and in the first meeting for the new officials of the club. Charles Burket presided, having been installed president last week.

William Veith was program chairman.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Holly Lash Visel and violin solos by Mrs. Dorothy Smith, both accompanied by Mrs. Lois Lux, preceded the speakers.

Miss Katherine Finchy, superintendent of the Desert School district, addressed the gathering and emphasized the great importance of investment in youth. She said that in all postwar planning, the place of our boys and girls, future citizens, should be given a prominent part.

"Cost of providing recreational facilities for youth now will be much less than the cost of maintaining jails because of our neglect," she said.

Following her talk she introduced Mrs. John Hooker, chairman of the local Girl Scout council, who talked about the revived Girl Scout activities here and how service clubs could help.

Next week's meeting will be at the Del Tahquitz hotel.

Herbert Samson was elected treasurer of the club succeeding George B. Davies who found that he would be unable to serve.

Enjoyable Musical Program Presented At Rotary Session

Palm Springs Rotarians made their last luncheon meeting of the season at the Desert Inn a most enjoyable affair and one long to be remembered when Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, director of music at the Community church brought four talented musicians with her to entertain the club with clever medleys, tuneful popular numbers and enjoyable piano numbers.

Following one serious song, "A Plea For Peace," by the trio composed of Mrs. Visel, Mrs. Viola Frazier and Mrs. Violet Fowler, accompanied by Mrs. Lois Lux on the piano, the trio presented a medley of Easter songs highlighted by the always popular "Easter Parade." Mrs. Emil Wagner joined the group for quartet medleys of songs featuring girl's names, "Mary Lou," "Margie," "Dinah" and of old timers which made most of the Rotarians remember their barber shop quartet days.

DELIGHTS WITH SOLOS

Mrs. Visel delighted with two solos from best-remembered light operas, "The Best Things in Life are Free," and "The Song Is You."

Mrs. Lux presented three piano solos which won continued applause. In fact, so enthusiastic were the Rotarians over the program that the artists were called back repeatedly.

REPORT BY CHIEF

Dr. Henry S. Reid, president, presided and called on Chief of Police Sanard who reported that after a survey of club members, it had been decided to meet for the balance of the season at the Del Tahquitz hotel. Next Thursday's meeting will be there, the Desert Inn dining rooms closing Monday for the season. He also reported that the boxes placed in hotels as magazines receptacles for soldiers and patients at Torney General Hospital had been so generously filled that he had taken two carloads of magazines to Torney to the delight of the recipients. He credited Arthur E. Bailey with the idea.

Mr. Bailey, who just recently returned from Rochester, Minn., spoke briefly.

Many visiting Rotarians were present.

MORE ABOUT . . .

Liquor Licenses . . .

meeting voted to send City Attorney Colgate and City Manager Sorum to Sacramento to represent the city at the hearing.

In the absence of Richard Collins, chairman, William G. Bonelli presided. Other members of the board who heard the city present its case were James Quinn, George R. Reilly and Harry B. Riley. Instead of taking the customary ten days to render a decision, they voted unanimously to uphold the city's protest, ending the six-month battle of the city to gain recognition of its stand. George Stout, state liquor administrator, concurred.

ENOUGH LICENSES

Following the hearing, Mr. Bonelli said that there were enough off-sale liquor licenses now in existence in the state to accommodate all of the liquor users and that the issuance of new ones would complicate the issue. He said the present muddled situation was the fault of the liquor distributors and until it was straightened out there was no reason for adding off-sale establishments.

Mr. Sorum and Mr. Colgate, who left here early Wednesday for Sacramento to testify and enlarge on the city's stand on licenses, will be home this weekend. While at the state capital they transacted other city business.

"Spoiled" Food

Sally peeked into her teacher's lunch box with envy. "All I had for lunch was moldy tomato," she complained.

That night the teacher tactfully brought the subject of food into the conversation when talking with Sally's mother, only to find out that Sally's mother had tried out a new gelatine mold in which she molded many tomato dishes.

Paper Drive Said Big Success But More Still Needed

Walter Illick, chairman of the Palm Springs salvage committee, this week said that he planned to resign as soon as a successor can be found.

"I simply can't spare the time to carry on," he said.

"However, thanks to everyone taking part in the recent paper drive. It was a success and thirty tons of paper were brought in. The war is still going on and you kids who did such a good job, keep going."

"Pitch in hard, you kids, until school closes. Get in every pound of paper you can and that applies to every one in town. The need for paper is still critical."

"A special fenced-in inclosure has been built at the Rancho Trailer Park for waste paper. Tie up your magazines and papers and either take them to this spot or to the schools."

Automobile Blaze Calls Out Local Fire Department

Pvt. Forrest Lytton, soldier stationed here, faced a large-sized repair bill as result of a fire Thursday afternoon which cracked the windshield of his automobile and burned most of the wiring.

The blaze, due to a short-circuit, started in his car which was parked just off Palm Canyon drive on Arenas road.

The blaze was quickly subdued after the department arrived.
